

New billing system unveiled for Medicare eligibility

DELRAY BEACH—Diabco, Inc. has announced the introduction of ME-First, a real-time Medicare eligibility software system. With it, providers will get an immediate response to determine patients' Medicare eligibility and what portion of their deductible remains unpaid.

Typical response time is less than ten seconds a patient. ME-First identifies primary payors and shows home-health episodes and HMOs, said president Edward Kutt. "Patient Medicare eligibility is no longer a constant, especially since Part D. It is now more important than ever to verify insurance before your bill, every time you bill," he said.
